

Timothy Sanderson

English / Language Arts Teacher

ABOUT ME

As an English teacher for 23 years, I have devoted my life to the craft of teaching and to helping students see themselves as writers.

EDUCATION

1998-1999 • University of Connecticut
• MA in English Education
1994-1998 • University of Connecticut
• BS in English Education

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Glastonbury High School, English Teacher, 1999-present

Courses Taught:

English 9 Literature and Writing, English 10 Literature and Writing, English 11, Composition, Creative Writing, Introduction to Poetry

Related Experience:

- English Department Curriculum Writer
- Literary Magazine Advisor
- Acceleration Program Teacher
- Credit Recovery Teacher
- Certified TEAM Mentor

Committee Work:

- Annual English Department Literary Showcase Producer and Advisor
- District PBIS Implementation Team Leader
- Safe School Climate Committee
- NEASC Evaluation Mission and Expectations Committee Chairperson
- Scholarship Committee
- Appeals Committee
- Grade 9 Mentor Teacher
- Town of Glastonbury Poet Laureate Selection Committee

PUBLICATIONS

"Classic Books Disappearing from Classes" (coauthor) Hartford Courant Op-Ed page, December 2015

"Sorry to Leave the Age of Ideals" Hartford Courant Op-Ed page, October 2006

"Scared? Not Me" Hartford Courant Op-Ed page, October 2004

"Cell Phones Don't Connect with Everybody" Hartford Courant Op-Ed page, May 2004

Glastonbury High School
330 Hubbard Street
Glastonbury, CT 06033
860-652-7200
sandersont@glastonburyus.org