The Department of English seeks applications for the Timothy F. Moriarty Award in Irish Literature. This award is a scholarship given to graduate students to enhance the University’s Irish Literature programs and activities. This year (2018) we expect the award to be $800.00. The eligible applicant must meet the following requirements:

● Full-time enrollment as a continuing graduate student in the English program at UConn.
● Demonstrated academic achievement.
● Demonstrated focal interest in Irish Literature.

Applications must be signed, dated, and submitted to the main office of the Department of English, Austin 208, by noon on Friday, March 23, 2018.

Name: Click here to enter text.
Address: Click here to enter text.
Phone: Click here to enter text.
E-mail: Click here to enter text.

Beginning date of full-time enrollment in the English graduate program of UConn’s College of Liberal Arts & Sciences: Click here to enter text.

Academic achievement: Please attach a transcript of grade in the English Graduate Program and a list of conference papers delivered and/or publications. Click here to enter text.

Focal interest in Irish literature: Please provide a brief personal statement explaining your interest in Irish literature. Click here to enter text.

The award is designed to support the professional development of English graduate students involved in Irish literature by supplementing expenses related to travel, seminars, conferences, and/or research. Please explain how you intend to use the award. Be as specific as possible. Click here to enter text.